YES, I'm planning to attend the Info Meeting that I checked below.

I can't participate, but I want to help.
Please accept my enclosed donation to CCFA.

I can't attend the meeting, but I do want to know more.
Please contact me.

I plan to bring a friend, too.

Nicholas is an active 10-year-old who loves to play baseball, go camping, and spend time with his friends. But over the past four years, he has spent many weeks in the hospital undergoing painful tests and treatments for Crohn's disease.

When he was first diagnosed, Nicholas' growing was slowed and he was teased at school when his face became puffed up in reaction to steroidal treatment. As his condition got worse, his parents had to give him stomach injections. This left him far from the baseball field, friends, and so many other important parts of his life.

Despite the roller-coaster of a ride Nicholas and his family have been through, they stay optimistic that his health will improve and a cure will be found. They are working with CCFA to increase awareness of Crohn's and colitis. It is their hope that future generations of children will not face these medical difficulties, and can just enjoy being kids.

Honored Hero: Nicholas

Give Hope for a Brighter Tomorrow

For over 40 years, the Crohn's & Colitis Foundation of America (CCFA) has paved the way to a cure by creating the first research programs dedicated to these diseases. However, there has never been a greater opportunity for progress than today. With science advancing through genetic discovery and escalating numbers of new cases, the need for funding is greater than it has ever been. Team Challenge for Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis is helping us raise the funds needed to make these diseases history.

Train with Team Challenge & Enjoy:

- Training by professional coaches over approximately 16 weeks at a venue near you.
- All the tools and help you need to raise your funds — you'll even get your own free web page for fundraising support.
- Resources, clinics, helpful tips on nutrition, hydration, injury prevention, and more.
- A Team Challenge t-shirt when you sign up, plus a singlet for the race.
- An expenses-paid weekend away, including transportation, accommodations, race entry fees, and entertainment when you commit to this fundraising program.
